Chicago Men Buy Ford Garage

Antioch Sales and Service Station Changed Hands Aug. 15.

A business change of considerable importance locally was effected recently when W. A. Rosing and associates of the Antioch Sales and Service Station, a corporation, disposed of their entire holdings to Messrs. Richard T. Corrin and R. F. Allner, of Chicago. The actual transfer of the business occurred on August 15, but the consummation of the deal was not announced to the general public at that time.

New Owners Experienced

That the new owners have acquired a valuable business is not questioned, and by reason of their experience they are well qualified to conduct the business successfully. For fifteen years Mr. Allner was superintendent of a Ford agency in Chicago, and his partner, Mr. Corrin, has had a wide experience in the manufacturing end of the game. For several years he was employed in the Ford factory in Detroit.

Largest in Northern Illinois

The Antioch Sales and Service Company occupies what is generally believed to be one of the largest garage buildings in northern Illinois outside the city of Chicago. The building is a two story structure, 60x250 feet, the main floor having about 15,000 square feet of floor space. This enormous space is used for the sales and service of the products of the Ford Motor Co., including sales of Lincoln cars. However, a department for service on any make of car is maintained.

Workmen Injured In Fall From Scaffold

Douglas Hill, an employee of the Carpenters and Cleaning Co., of Minneapolis, Minn., is in the Burlington hospital recovering from injuries sustained here Tuesday shortly before noon when he fell from a height of twenty feet from the new building being erected by the First National Bank. The breaking of a frayed rope which was supporting the platform upon which Hill and a companion were working, was the cause of the accident. Upon examination it was found that Mr. Hill had no broken bones, but it was feared he had sustained internal injuries of a serious nature. Today, however, reports from Burlington are to the effect that he is recovering.

KNOW ILLINOIS!

Approximately 1,400,000 children go to school this year in Illinois in 10,125 county one-room buildings and 1,600 village and city schools.

Illinois' hydro-electric development is 6 1/2 times as large as that of Africa, although Africa's potential waterpower development is 5 1/2 times that of Illinois.

Joliet was originally named Joliet, but later the name was changed to that of the famous explorer.

Annual production of electricity in Illinois would light 1,190 one-hundred watt lamps from the time of Aesop to the present time—5,000 years.

Outside of Chicago, Rockford led the state in number of residential buildings erected during the first seven months of 1926. Housing accommodations were provided for 558 families.

Poughkeepsie ranks second only to Chattanooga, N. Y., as a center of the Chautauqua movement.

Each week day Chicago's elevated railroads carry a number of passengers equal to the population of South Dakota.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Townsend, of Brookings, S. Dakota, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Townsend's sister, Mrs. Lee Strang and family. County Superintendent of schools, T. A. Simpson, of Waukegan, visited the Antioch school Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Prohl and Mr. and Mrs. W. Prohl and family, of Milwaukee, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Jake Drom.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Drom and Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Drom, of Manitowish, Wis., spent the week end with relatives in Antioch.

Oil Company To Build Warehouse

Messrs. Rosing and Wedge Start Excavating for New Fire-Proof Building on Lake Street

The work of excavating for a modern, fire-proof building was started Tuesday morning by Messrs. Rosing and Wedge, of the Antioch Oil Company, on their property just west of the oil station on Lake street. The new structure is to be two stories 30x46 ft., built of brick, steel and cement and will be as nearly fire-proof as is possible to build. A rest room and other conveniences will make the place modern and up-to-date. The building will be used to house the Company's trucks and for the storage of supplies, such as greases and oils. A place also will be provided for washing and greasing cars.

That the new building will be completed within sixty days is the expectation of the owners.

THIRTY-FIVE MILLION CHRISTMAS SEALS

Thirty-five million Christmas Seals were received at the office of the Illinois Tuberculosis and Public Health Association yesterday. If it had not been such a hot day one could almost be cool thinking of Christmas packages all sealed with the very attractive 1926 seal.

Have you any idea how much they weighed? Several tons and they must be allotted to the counties of Illinois, outside of Cook county. Posters, window cards and other display material will be received later," said Mrs. Jayne Kerr, Executive Secretary. With every available medium of publicity and distribution functioning, in the 1926 seal sale promises to set a new record for Illinois.

Stratton Warns Hunters of Change In Game Code

Migratory Game Season Opens Oct. 1. Instead of Sept. 16.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 7:—Warning to hunters that the opening of the shooting season for migratory game birds, ducks, geese, brant and coots is October first instead of September 16th was issued here today by William J. Stratton, Director of the State Department of Conservation.

While the Illinois Game Code gives the open season for taking migratory birds as September 16th to December 31st it also provides that the Illinois law shall comply with the federal regulations.

The change of the shooting season to October first to January fifteenth was made by proclamation by the Federal government. No action was taken by the Illinois Legislature or the Director of Conservation in this change of dates.

Director Stratton in his warning stated that the greatest possible amount of publicity was being given this change so that none of the 300,000 hunters licensed by the state would violate this regulation through lack of information. State as well as Federal game Wardens have received instructions to insist upon strict observance of open season dates as well as other restrictions.

No other changes have been made in the law covering migratory birds. The high points covering the hunting of these birds are:

Open season October 1 to January 15—Daily bag limits:

Ducks 15; Geese 8, Brant 8, Coots 15—

Shooting before sunrise or after sunset prohibited.

Shooting prohibited from blinds beyond line or natural cover or from power or sail boat.

Use of rifle, swivel gun, nets or sneak boat or sink box also prohibited.

Director Stratton in his warning also stressed the importance of duck clubs and operators of shooting grounds purchasing club licenses before any shooting is done. Four hundred of these club licenses were issued last year and it seems probable that the number will be given greater this year. Failure to comply with this provision means a fine and closing of the club for one year.

Heavy Rains Halt Labor Day Crowds

Antioch, hub of the Illinois lake region, and the mecca of thousands during the summer season and vacation periods, was again over-run with traffic during the week end and over Labor day, in spite of the heavy rains which halted many vacationists in their last pleasure trip of the season. By Saturday night many hotels and private homes had hung out the "no room" sign and many tourists who had counted on camping accommodations were returning to the city.

Sunday, with no let up in the rain, traffic was about even for several hours, both north and south, some who had remained in the city Saturday were unwilling to miss their vacation and trusting for better weather north started on their way, while others, drenched, were tired of the life and were heading for home. Monday was an ideal day and those who remained had at least one day's pleasure in the country.

Capital And Labor Should Serve Society Says Pastor Stanton

Large Crowd Hear Splendid Labor Day Sermon at Methodist Church Sunday Evening

"There is no place for the loafer in this world or the next," said Rev. E. Lester Stanton, preaching a special Labor day discourse at the Antioch Methodist Church last Sunday evening. Rev. Stanton had for his subject "Labor and its Reward," and his address contained much sound advice to those who have engaged in the age old struggle between capital and labor.

"Business in America is thriving," said Rev. Stanton, "and it would thrive still more if both Capital and Labor tried to serve society."

Big business need never think that the workers will be satisfied with less than a living wage, while the product of their labor keeps their employers in luxury. Labor need never think that there can be peace in industry until each worker is willing to earn the wages he desires.

"The church, which says so much about a living wage, has something yet to do in the matter of paying it, before either Labor or Capital takes its statements of ideals seriously. The church is making advance in this matter."

"The world of Labor has often been artificially restricted to mean only Organized Labor or those who belong to Unions. We have lost a lot of the sense of social solidarity in this way. Not until the manual laborer admits that mental labor is hard work, and the employers admit ability of manual laborers to engage in creative production, will both groups learn to feel like brothers. And much will be lost unless both these groups admit into their thinking all the rest of the world—the professional classes, the business group, the agricultural folks, and especially the lower group of labor the non-union, or casual workers, and learn to think of them too, as brothers."

"The question of rewards has always played a large part in the battles of industry. What shall we have for our work or our investment? It is a natural question. By the fruits of our labor we live. The disciples of Jesus asked what they should receive if they left all and followed Him. His answer proves that he thought God the Father take care of His own, and furthermore, above our needs He satisfies our souls."

"God seems to be on the side of the worker. The prophets all thought so, and Jesus said so. There is no place for the loafer in this world or the next, whether he be rich or poor. But there is a place for him who has labored with all his might: 'Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy-laden, and I will give you rest.' Besides a material reward there is peace of spirit."

"And after all, what shall it profit a man if he so labors that all he needs to do is to clip coupons, if he lose his soul? What shall it profit a man to fight all his life for a money wage, if he never earns the blessing of God? 'What shall it profit a man to gain the whole world and lose his own soul?' While clamoring for rewards we ought to take thought for spiritual riches."

ANTIOCH BUSINESS CLUB MEETS MONDAY EVENING

A full attendance of members is urged.

Greater Enrollment In High School

One Hundred and Forty-Five Students Register At Local High Tuesday Morning

That the Antioch township high school is to have the greatest enrollment in history was evidenced Tuesday morning when happy vacation days ended for one hundred and forty-five young men and women who registered for the school year at the local institution of learning. The nearest approach to this number was last year when the register showed a total enrollment of one hundred and forty students.

Owing to crowded conditions at the school, the gymnasium is being divided into class-rooms to be used until the completion of the new addition now being built.

The student body is divided into classes as follows: Seniors, 28; Juniors, 23; Sophomores, 44; Freshmen, 45.

Three New Names on Faculty Roll

The faculty of nine teachers is as follows: L. O. Bright, Principal, mathematics; C. L. Kutt, agriculture, L. R. Watson, manual training and coach; L. A. Stark, science, orchestra; Allee Smith, Latin, history; Helen Bauck, English, glee club; Walter Jespen, English, debating; Ruby Ritchie, home economics; Mary Sigworth, commercial, French. The last three named are new comers to the local school, and were employed by the board of education after having been very highly recommended. The other six members of the faculty were re-employed because of proven worth and ability in previous years.

Notwithstanding the crowded conditions at the high school, every thing is starting off nicely and both students and faculty are looking forward to a very successful school year.

181 Enrolled in Grades

An unusually large number of pupils are also enrolled in the Antioch grade school, according to announcement by Prin. Petty Wednesday morning, 181 having been registered at the opening of school.

Mrs. Lux, teacher of the primary room, has the largest number of pupils under her care, 28 beginners and 18 second grade pupils. Miss Hynek, in room two, has 40 third and fourth grade pupils. Miss Haas will instruct 35 pupils in the fifth and sixth grades, and Prin. Petty has 42 seventh and eighth graders. The opportunity room, in charge of Miss Pierce, has 18 pupils.

Voliva Shocks Church Goers

Zionites Leave Prayer Meeting After Hearing Indecent Language

The story of how Wilbur Glenn Voliva shocked his own church goers in a verbal attack on all bobbed haired women, using language of the street unfit to print, was told in the Benton News of last week.

"We don't wish the front page of our little paper decorated with such words as many eye-and-ear witnesses say were used by Mr. Voliva at the prayer meeting Wednesday night of last week in Shiloh tabernacle."

Many of his own flock arose and left the building after they heard him say in the terms of the street that all bobbed-haired women were immoral and he would not stoop to one's assistance even if he saw her being violently attacked by a man.

From the many different persons who attended the meeting and say they heard this statement by the G. O., we have been persuaded to give the story room in the News.

Twin Lakes Murder Still a Mystery

Police Quiz Uncovers No Clue to Slayer of Jackson D. Carlisle

Body Found on Wilmot-Twin Lakes Road Monday Morning

Police investigation following the finding of the body of Jackson D. Carlisle, soldier of fortune, actor and salesman, mysteriously slain with an axe, at a lonely spot along the Wilmot-Twin Lakes road early Monday morning, has failed to unearth a clue as to the identity of the slayer. Carlisle is believed to have been hacked to death with an axe, and his head was almost severed from his body when found by motorists.

Identification was established through cards and insurance papers found on the body of the slain man. Mrs. Carlisle, located in Chicago, following the finding of the body of her husband, told detectives that she and her husband had gone to Kenosha Sunday to visit friends, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klingbell. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Petschelt, of 1658 N. Wells st.

Early Sunday evening, she said, she and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Petschelt and Mr. and Mrs. Klingbell, drove to Twin Lakes, Wis., to visit Mr. Klingbell's brother, Emil. There was a party, Mrs. Carlisle admitted, and drinks were served.

Reveals Jealousy

About 2 o'clock Monday morning, she said, her husband became jealous because she had been singing for some of the men. Angered, she said, he walked from the house. That was the last time she saw him. When he failed to return after several hours, she said, she decided he had returned to Chicago, thinking she would find him at the hotel. When she arrived attaches broke the news of his murder to her.

Carlisle, for a year employed as a salesman by the Henry J. Koenigsberger Tailoring Company, 518 N. State st., had resided for fifteen years in the Revere Hotel, 417 N. Clark st. He was the subject of an article called "Soldiers of Fortune" printed recently in a national magazine.

Motive for the slaying has not been learned, but detectives do not attribute the murder to robbers as money and other valuables were in pockets of the slain man.

WHY ORGANIZE?

Better that we ask the question: Why should no men, especially farmers, organize? Says a bulletin issued yesterday by the United Milk Producers Association.

In these days of strenuous times for all agricultural lines, if there is any one thing needed most, it is that all men interested in agriculture should be organized. Why?

Probably no product of any other industry is so hated about, like a shuttle cock as the products of agriculture. Again why?

The producer of Foods and forage in this United States is a sort of lord of his domain which he considers no one else should be interested in, he considering that what he does is no one else's business. There was a time when this may have been true, but "Those days are gone forever."

No longer can any one firm, any one person go out and battle against the buying and selling forces with any reasonable assurances of success.

No longer does any firm, corporation, or reasonable person undertake to do such a thing. Why? Because all such firms, corporations, or reasonable persons dare not do any such things, knowing that they are going up against strong organizations.

At the time the producers of milk in this dairy district set their minds against the Compulsory Testing of their herds to suit the fancy of individuals who sought to build up a reputation for themselves, they (the producers) saw fit to drop out or at least not to get into organization. Oh! a few got in but a larger number stayed out with the result of a divided house. We read somewhere that "a house divided against itself cannot stand." This has proven to be true in the case of the Milk Producers Association, not that the Association does not stand: But that it is short of its strength and has become somewhat helpless all because many of its members saw fit to bolt off and surrender soul and body to the parties who were planning and hoping for that very thing.

In doing this, the organization was weakened and made helpless and will remain helpless, unless men rally in numbers to the support of their Association. In numbers there is strength and power. Without numbers any organization is helpless.

5¢ worth of ELECTRICITY

What a wonderful nickel's worth it is!

The cost figures in this advertisement are based upon electricity at 10 cts. per kilowatt hour.

MOST of the good things of life cost much more than they did in 1914; electricity, the shining exception, actually costs no more. This is a record of which the electrical industry is justly proud. It means that you can use electricity very freely and still be very economical. It means that no American husband ought to allow his wife to waste time and energy in doing one single household task that electricity can do for a few cents an hour.

GENERAL ELECTRIC

We are glad to reprint this advertisement because it pictures so clearly the economy of electrical conveniences. . . . Your rates for general lighting service, as given below, are even less than the base rate used in this advertisement:

9 cents* net	per kilowatt hour—for initial consumption in month.
8 cents net	per kilowatt hour—for secondary consumption in month.
6 cents net	per kilowatt hour—for all additional consumption in month.

* Except in five towns where the initial rate is 10c.

Our National Efficiency

VISITORS to the United States from other countries marvel at the efficiency of our great industrial organizations, of the skill with which great crowds are handled on occasions of public interest, and a score of other things in which the ability of American organizers to handle things in great volume is shown.

The principal tool or instrument behind these seeming marvels is usually found to be the telephone. Take telephone service out of our great factories, our great stores, our great expositions and congresses, and confusion will be likely to replace the smoothness and efficiency at which the visitors marvel. Studies extending over half a century have brought the telephone service in America to its present efficiency. While this is most strikingly shown in connection with big affairs and great emergencies, it is likewise to be found in the ordinary service, which is at the call of any and every telephone subscriber.

The Girl From Childs

Manager S. N. Fowler of the Majestic Theatre, announced today that he has been fortunate enough to secure the great coast-to-coast comedy-drama triumph, "The Girl From Childs," and it will be presented by the Majestic players next week, with Miss Janet Regal, in the title role.

"The Girl From Childs," comes from the pen of Archie Colby and A.
G. Jackson. It first saw the light of day as a vaudeville sketch, winning phenomenal popularity. It traveled over the so called "big time" that in, the principal theatres in the largest cities of the United States for sixty years it also holds the record of having played no less than eight time at the Palace Theatre, New York.

The sketch cleaned up a fortune for its owner and author, and four broadway managers—A. H. Woods, Cohan & Harris, The Selwyn Bros., and Oliver Moroco entered a spirited, the race to secure the rights to the three act version.

Moroco won by offering the author a staggering advance royalty and the play was written for a famous star comedian, however she deserted to musical comedy, under a long term contract, and having no one to replace her option had expired, Mr. Moroco was compelled to release "The Girl From Childs" for Stock.

The play was given its tryout at the famous Moroco stock co., in Los Angeles, Cal., where it broke the record by running for 18 solid weeks.

"The Girl From Childs" is also notable for an absorbingly interesting story, that wastes no time, and gathered moments as it goes along.
It is one of those rare entertainments where every line means something to every one of the theatre.
The play is woven about Mary, a slangy but good hearted young waitress, who elopes with a lawyer, he sends her to the parental home in Washington, where she finds herself, much to her surprise, in the midst of a gathering to wealthy society people.

The family, with the exception of the younger brother, played by Karl Way, is horrified to learn of the older son's alliance with a common vulgar waitress, and they exert all sorts of pressure to get her out of the house, so she will not shock their blue blooded guests.

This condition brings about a series of contrastingly dramatic and hilariously funny situations. Mary holds her ground, until she accidently discovers that her husband is faithless. Then broken-hearted, she leaves, but not before she has unmasked a slick crook and prevented her "in-laws" from becoming mixed up in a disastrous scandal.

The last act, one year later, finds quite a change in Mary as she returns to "the in-laws" residence for a certain very good reason. To tell how she finds true love and happiness would spoil the effect of the climax for the many play goers who are certain to see the play this week.

Lots of Rainfall

In Dominica the hottest of the Leeward group of the West India Islands, 15 miles north of Martinique and 25 miles south of Guadeloupe, Nature Magazine says 300 inches of rain falls every year.

Few Old Maids Red Haired

Red hair is the best of old-maid insurance, says Cupper's Magazine. A German scientist who has specialized in these matters finds red haired girls rarely fail to get a husband. He discovers also that the majority of young women who do not marry are blondes. That dark-haired members of both sexes marry early and oftener than those with light hair.

Clever Animals

Animals use a variety of dodges to confuse their enemies. A rabbit or a hare, when hard pressed by a dog, will allow its pursuer almost to catch it, then suddenly recover and set off at an easy pace, just one jump ahead of the dog, slantwise for a breast-high barb-wire fence. A jump under the wire by the fugitive often means a dog badly crippled.

Rapid Pipe Smoking

An ordinary pipe can be smoked in eighteen minutes, although British pipe smokers who have crammed the bowl of the pipe full of a peculiar grade of tobacco have been known to smoke it in eleven minutes.

Antioch Wins Again, 7-3

Local Tossers Defeat Valmar team in Labor Day Game

The local baseball team added another victory to their list when they defeated the crack Valmar team of Camp Lake. This team came to Antioch with a record of 12 wins out of 13 games and in addition had added 3 star players from Lake Geneva, but the Antioch boys out played them in every department of the game and won easily by the score of 7-3. A good crowd was present considering the threatening weather. Antioch scored two runs in the second on a single by Halwas, a walk to Drom and a double by Johnnie Wallace, playing his first game in an Antioch uniform. Valmar momentarily took the lead in their third inning scoring all their 3 runs on 3 hits and a couple of errors. Antioch came from behind again and scored four runs, Lasco singled thru second, Bill Steininger walked and Simpson singled filling the bases with none out. In this crisis Lasco scored the tying run on a wild pitch and then Sullivan, the local clean up slugger, came thru with a long triple scoring two more. Halwas singled, Sullivan home for another run which wasn't needed. The locals added another one for good measure in the sixth on Halwas' third hit, Drom sacrifice and singles by Wallace and Al Steininger.

The feature of the game was the great pitching of young Britton. Although allowing ten hits, most of them were infield scratches and well scattered. We struck out nine sluggers and had perfect control. The manner in which he had them fooled can be seen from the fact that not a Valmar batter hit a ball far enough for the outfielders to make a single put out. They were continually hitting fouls, grounds and infield pop-up.

The hitting of Wallace and Bill Halwas was very good, each getting three hits in four trips to the plate. Several of the locals players have left for high school and college but their places will be filled by players from this vicinity.

Next Sunday the 12th, the Renegade's Tigers of Round Lake will appear at the local park. This team has won 11 games this year and should make a good match for the local sluggers.

On Sunday, Sept. 19, the John-Manville Co. team, of Waukegan will appear at the local park for a game which may be the last home game for Antioch. Their game last Sunday was cancelled on account of rain.

Everybody come out for these two big games and help the hard-working local boys finish their home games with two more victories and also with all their bills paid.

On Sept. 26, the Antioch team will play their last game of the season at Harrington. This team recently had a winning streak of 23 games and have a great ball club, making a good match for the Antioch team.

The Kenosha Fair To Be Greatest Ever

All preliminary arrangements for the biggest and best fair in the history of Kenosha County have been made, and with favorable weather the fair this year should surpass both in exhibits and attendance many of the larger fairs of the state of Wisconsin.

The premium books for the Fair are already being distributed, and additional prizes together with the increase in nearly all premiums should influence many more of the larger exhibitors to show at the Fair.

The West Kenosha Fair Board consisting of William Luke, Wheatland; R. T. Buffon Silver Lake; R. S. Ihlenfeldt, Wilmet; George T. Dear, Bassett; Joseph Tosie, Bassett; H. B. McDougall, Wilmet; John VanLiere, Salem; David Miller, Burlington; George Higgins, Wilmet; Lewis Rhodes, Kansasville; James Torrey, Bristol and Wm. Van Lier, Bristol, are all experienced, conscientious fair workers. Each individual has charge of one department, and each is overly enthusiastic in making his department the outstanding exhibit of the fair.

One of the outstanding exhibits of the fair will be that of cattle. The tuberculin test has brought many new cattle into our county, and many of the cattle which have been brought in were purchased from successful show men. As a result of this, many more entries are expected in the cattle department this year. It has always been the policy of the fair officials to provide sufficient space for live stock, and in order to insure sufficient space for the additional cattle, more tent room has been rented. The cattle department is under the direction of Louis Rhodes, Kansasville. Mr. Rhodes has had charge of the cattle exhibits at all the past Kenosha Fairs, and it is because of his fair and square treatment together with the fact that competent judges from the University of Wisconsin have always done the judging in the past, that the number of entries in his department has grown from about five or six in 1922 to two hundred in 1925.

Another exhibit which will be much larger this year is that of poultry. The poultry department is in charge of Mr. John VanLiers, of Salem. Mr. VanLiers is a pioneer in poultry development, and he too has been in charge of that division ever since the Fair originated. Last year much more poultry was shown than was expected, and as a result it was necessary to secure additional coops after the Fair gates were open. This year, to avoid inconvenience and to insure the best of service to all poultry exhibitors, many new coops will be provided. The exhibit of poultry last year was rated as one of the best by officials who were present from the University of Wisconsin. This year no effort will be spared by Mr. VanLiers in making his exhibit bigger and better than it was last.

Last year the exhibits in the Culinary Department in charge of Mrs. Frank Burroughs, of Wilmet more than doubled. This year, Mrs. Burroughs is expecting many more entries of the same high grade as in the past and is expending every effort to make this display superior to

DEADWOOD DICK IS NOT DEAD, HE YELLS

Famous Dime Novel Character Indignant at Tale.

Deadwood, S. D., —"Deadwood Dick," the old hero of a hundred dime novels, who was recently reported dead in California, is yelling his head off denying that he is dead. He has just written his old friend, "Diamond Dick," saying he's just as much alive as he ever was. He is now living on a ranch near Whitewood, S. D., at the north end of the Black hills, the scene of all his "activities."

"The fellow who died in California was 'One-Eye Dick,' not 'Deadwood Dick,' writes the latter gentleman. "One-Eye Dick" was Dick Bullock. Deadwood Dick's name is Richard Clark. Dick Bullock was a gold guard, and with his Winchester he brought down millions and millions of dollars in gold dust from the Black hills gold mines to the refinery at Omaha, and never lost an ounce of "dust."

But Deadwood Dick, of all the popular dime-novel heroes, Deadwood Dick stood at the very head when he was in his prime about 40 years ago. Every Saturday for years there was a new Deadwood Dick novel out in Biddle's Dime Lib'ry.

Splendid Fellow—Our Hero.
All the boys of those years remember what a splendid character was Deadwood Dick; how he galloped his black stallion across the pages of Biddle's with fire and bullets streaming from the muzzle of his two guns, killing Indians, knocking out outlaws like a champion bowler knocks down temples, rescuing beautiful maidens from deep-dyed villains, only to have the maidens promptly fall in love with him, discovering indubitably rich gold mines in long-lost gulches, defending the "underfoot," righting the wrongs of the weak and wearing immaculate linen and patent-leather top boots in a country of red-funnel shirts and Indian moccasins.

Edward L. Wheeler made Deadwood Dick famous and Deadwood Dick made Edward L. Wheeler rich. As a fact there were a dozen or so Deadwood Dicks but only one Edward L. Wheeler. Wheeler and Biddle got a copyright on the name in fiction and kept the hero to themselves. After Wheeler had made the name famous, every fellow in the Black hills whose name was "Richard" took the name "Deadwood Dick" to himself. But while many claimed the name, Dick Clark was the man upon whom Deadwood Dick's title "Deadwood Dick."

In the early days Deadwood Dick was really quite a character. He was a miner, like everybody else in the Black hills in those days. Gold was the most plentiful thing in Deadwood gulch and along Gold Run in that period.

Drove Stagecoaches Awhle.
Deadwood Dick drove a stagecoach for a while, too, over a division of the Deadwood-Stdney line. The railroad was at Sidney, 250 miles away. But Dick Clark never was "in it" for a minute with that Deadwood Dick hero created by Wheeler. There was a fellow who could drive six horses down the mountainside, yelling and shouting at the top of his voice, shooting right and left-handed at the trees or at birds on either side of the road and bringing his team up short in front of the Spread Eagle saloon. Dick Clark was a pretty good driver and his name was Deadwood Dick, but he couldn't drive like that dime-novel Deadwood Dick could drive.

After the glamour had worn off, gold mining in the Black hills had got down to a rich man's proposition and a railroad had been built to the hills, Dick Clark gave up mining and "heroining" and went to work for the railroad trucking freight at the depot. But Edward L. Wheeler refused to recognize the changed conditions and kept right on with his "unfamed" and "unfamous" hero, Deadwood Dick.

Clark is now an old man and bears mighty little resemblance to the dashing character created for him by Wheeler.

Ten Representatives Perfect in Attendance

Washington.—Ten representatives had perfect attendance records in the house during the first session of the Sixty-ninth congress which closed July 3.

They were Representatives Cannon, Missouri; Green, Florida; Hill, Washington; Huddleston, Alabama; Quinn and Rankin, Mississippi; Swank, Oklahoma, Democrats; and McLaughlin and Maples, Michigan, and Miller, Washington, Republicans. They did not miss a roll call during the session, whether for a quorum or vote.

'Talk' on Locomotive Whistles Irks Sleepers

New York City.—Engineers on locomotives of Long Island railroad trains hold long conversations at night by means of blasts on their whistles and also "play tunes" on them, and smoke from the engines is sometimes so dense that the engines themselves are invisible, according to residents of the Morris Park and Tuxton districts of Queens, who testified at the trial of the railroad on the charge of maintaining a public nuisance.

FIND MORE WONDERS OF ANCIENT EMPIRE

Explorers Dig Up Fascinating Mayan Art.

El Paso, Texas.—More wonders of the long-haired Mayan empire have been revealed. Although many square miles still are blanketed by soil and jungle growth at Chichen Itza, Yucatan, the expedition of the Carnegie institution of Washington has just accomplished there its greatest year's work in baring the splendors of the Mayan empire after centuries of abandonment, according to Prof. Sylvanus G. Morley, director of excavations.

He told of the season's discoveries in passing through here on his way to Santa Fe, N. M., to complete his formal report. After the third season of excavation Prof. Morley has suspended work until the end of the rainy season next January.

The expedition discovered some marvellously colored, well preserved mural carvings, the brilliant yellow, green and red shades of which had retained their beauty for seven centuries.

Curved human figures, which in ancient times adorned the carvings of temples overlooking what Prof. Morley asserts was one of the greatest civilizations the world has ever known, were lifted from where they crashed to the ground as time destroyed the magnificent temples and were carefully placed together by the scientists forming the Carnegie staff at Chichen Itza.

The Temple of Warriors there, Prof. Morley said, is one of the finest specimens of the beautifully proportioned, esthetic ancient architecture of North America. Excavations about it were practically completed. Striking figures of giant serpents were replaced in their original resting places again surrounded by flocks of grotesquely shaped eagles and jaguars. Just as they stood in ancient times.

More than fifty carved columns, forming a portion of a giant colonnade flanking the Temple of Warriors, were cleaned of the dense growth which had covered them for centuries.

CAPITOL DECORATED

Now that congress has vacated the capitol, the work of redecorating the interior is under way. Charles A. Whipple, noted artist, has been retained to retouch many of the valuable paintings that adorn the walls of the building.

No Girl Too Young to Teach, Nebraska Edict

Lincoln, Neb.—In Nebraska a girl is never too young to teach. That is the dictum of the Supreme court in its ruling that Anne Joyce, fifteen, and Mrs. Darline Johnson, seventeen, are entitled to teachers' certificates from the department of public instruction.

The young women carried their case to the Supreme court after Superintendent Masterson of the department had declined to issue certificates because of their youth, although both were recognized as properly qualified in training.

Miss Joyce was fourteen when she applied for her certificate, after having been graduated from high school and completed two years' work at the state normal school.

Roast Pig and Dressing National Dish of Cuba

Havanna, Cuba.—Cuba's national dish is roast pig.

The pig, 20 to 40 pounds on the hoof, is stuffed with a dressing made with a breed base, to which is added spices to suit the individual taste. It takes the place of honor on "Noche Buena" (Christmas eve) instead of the familiar American turkey on Christmas day.

The most popular dish is chicken and rice. The chicken is stewed and the rice steamed separately. They are combined with a few strips of a mild red pepper grown in Cuba and placed in an earthenware dish and baked. Sometimes eggs or saffron are added to the rice.

Yawn Locks Jaws

Honcon, N. Y.—Miss Josephine Smith yawned and something happened. Her jaws locked and for two hours her mouth remained wide open. Dr. George Jennings tried ordinary methods to make her shut her mouth, but finally sent her to a hospital, where she was given an anesthetic and her jaws closed by force. She suffered no permanent injury.

GLACIER CUTS DOWN MOUNTAIN IN PATH

Vast Alaskan River of Ice Changes Its Course.

Cordeva, Alaska.—Henry Glacier has changed its age-old course and is now literally pushing its way over the top of a mountain to reach the sea, declare observers returning from the vicinity of Mile 75.

What was first thought smoke issuing from the top of a peak near here later developments show to be great clouds of dust caused by the breakup of the ice under the pressure of the ice river.

Henry Volkins, soundough, who has traveled over a large part of the territory investigating geological freaks, visited the scene and inspected the glacier's actions. He heard the tons of rock, pushed by the glacier, falling into canyons below, causing crashings audible for five miles. The mountain side has the appearance of heavy blasting operations.

Due to the tremendous pressure resulting from the slow progress across the mountain, the glacier has buckled and mammoth cracks crosswise are noticeable. The peak of the mountain being slowly disintegrated is about 3,000 feet high but composed of soft shale. Prospectors believe the whole mountain will soon crumble from the pushing of the irresistible force of the ice structure.

King of Yugo-Slavia Has Yearly Income of Million

Belgrade.—King Alexander of Yugo-Slavia is one of the highest-paid monarchs in the world, recent additions to his civil list bringing his yearly income to $1,000,000 a year.

This is forty times greater than the personal allowance made by Bulgaria to King Boris, and about five times in excess of the yearly income of King Ferdinand of Rumania. It is almost fourteen times more than the salary of the President of the United States and is probably exceeded only by the civil list of the King of England.

But out of his $1,000,000 a year Alexander must maintain a huge palace at Belgrade, another at Topchider, near Belgrade, a third at Bled, in northern Slovenia, and several smaller villas. The new palace at Topchider cost the state nearly $1,000,000, while repairs on the old palace in Belgrade cost about $400,000. The young king does not entertain on an elaborate scale, but he has an enormous number of servants and others attached to his various palaces who must be paid.

Girl Rides 140 Miles on "Nonstop" Trip in Tabriz, Persia.—The championship among the world's feminine horseback riders ought to go to Miss Marjorie Wilson of Watertown, N. Y., an American girl in the Near East Relief arduous work here.

In order to save a large group of refugees from political intrigues which threatened to deprive them of their homes, she made the nonstop trip of 140 miles on horseback, halting only to change animals. The journey was from Tabriz to Urnia, and she made the distance in 24 hours less than the weekly train requires between these same two points.

The story of her remarkable ride has just been revealed in an official report filed with the American embassy here.

Germ Attacks Fish

College Park, Mo.—Cystislagellidella—haunting a size in inverse ratio to its name—is the germ which is carpeting the shores of the lower Chesapeake with hundreds of thousands of dead fish, says H. B. On reaching the house it was found that a $10 bill, missing from the unattended place, and supposed to have been stolen, had been blown to the floor by the wind.

From 1890 until after the Civil war Yankee clipper carried ice from Boston to India. With the advent of artificial refrigeration the trade died out, says the Dearborn Independent.

Hard Food Essential
A recent survey among leading dentists disclosed the fact that oral hygienists consider hard food an absolute essential for children. Ordinary diet, they pointed out, consists mostly of soft foods, with the result that the teeth and gums do not get proper exercise, or such essential elements as lime. By including hard, crunchy food in one or more meals every day, the deficiency can be quickly overcome.

maintain dormitories in the larger central office in which many operators required only for a short period, have been housed for the rest of the night. These tours of duty have, of course, been undesirable and hard to fill. The spreading of the long distance traffic over the lengthened reduced rate period will receive this situation.

Reversal Privilege Extended
Another change that will be welcomed is the extension of the privilege of reserving charges to include station-to-station calls—whether placed during the day, evening or night—where the rate is 25 cents or more. In the last few years the use of long distance service has been increasing constantly and many situations now arise where the reversal of charges is of advantage to the customer who calls for a certain number. Hence this privilege is added convenience and saving to the public.

ILLINOIS CATTLE BRING HIGHEST PRICE OF YEAR AT CHICAGO
The highest price this year at Chicago for a mixed consignment of steers and heifers was received last week Sept. 2 on 57 Hereford baby heifers by William Seltzer, an Illinois farmer living near Manhattan in Will county. A price of 11 cents a pound was paid for these yearling cattle by Wilson & Company, Chicago packers, in their sale for Seltzer by the Farmers Union Live Stock Commission, the livestock selling department at Chicago of the Illinois Farmers Union.

These cattle came to Mr. Seltzer's farm as calves from Colorado last November. They were started on feed on Thanksgiving Day, receiving as their fair ration corn, oats, clover hay and corn silage with a little oat straw early in the feeding period. During the last three months they were finished on linseed oil cake and molasses feed in addition to their regular corn-clover hay-silage ration. Their average weight at Chicago at the time they were sold by the farmers' co-operative association was 790 pounds.

Further indications of increased interest in co-operative marketing of livestock at the terminal markets are revealed by the August report of the Farmers Union at Chicago. A total of 575 cars of livestock was received by this organization in August of this year, which is an increase of 20.08 per cent over the 476 cars received in the same month last year. The number of difference species of livestock sold on this market in August, 1926, by this farmer-owned company was 4,365 cattle, 22,585 hogs and 9,448 sheep, having a total sales value of 1,310,187.

NEW LONG DISTANCE SCHEDULE

Important Changes Mean Better Service and $3,000,000 Annual Saving to Public

Important rate change on messages to point outside the state of Illinois involving a general readjustment in long-distance rates, and in the evening and night period during which reduced rates apply, are announced by the Illinois Bell telephone Company. The changes are effective October 1, on message from points in Illinois to points outside the state.

The company has filed an application with the Illinois Commerce Commission for authority to make the same changes in rates between Illinois points. Notices will be later given to the company's subscribers when and if such rates become effective.

These changes are to be made, the company states, for the benefit of users of long distance service and to eliminate service difficulties which the present schedule has brought about.

The net result of the readjustment in rates will be a saving to the telephone users of the country of approximately three million dollars a year. To points 150 miles or more distant the rates are substantially reduced. The greater the distance, the greater the reduction. For example, from Antioch to Detroit the basic station-to-station rate will be $1.45 instead of $1.70; to Pittsburgh, $2.25 instead of $2.95; to New York, $3.55 instead of $4.90; to San Francisco, $8.10 instead of $11.70. Long distance cables, carrier systems, vacuum tube repeaters, loading coils and other improved devices and methods, resulting from continuous scientific research and development applied to the telephone industry, have effected economies on the longer circuits, and have a share in making these reductions possible. A few rates for distance between 24 and 110 miles will be adjusted to make the schedule consistent throughout, but in these cases the increase of the basic station-to-station rate will be only five cents.

One of the interesting changes from the public's viewpoint is that by which one and a half hours have been added to the reduced rate period. Reduced rates on station-to-station calls will begin at 7 p. m. instead of 8:30 p. m., as formerly. Between 7 p. m. and 8:30 p. m., the discount will be approximately 25 per cent of the day station-to-station rates, and from 8:30 p. m. to 4:30

s. m., about 50 per cent. of the day rates. These discounts will apply where the day station-to-station rate is 40 cents or more, with a minimum reduced rate of 35 cents. Because of the unsatisfactory service conditions which it brought about, the existing midnight discount is discontinued.

Lowest Rates at Eight-thirty

Under the new schedule station-to-station calls may be made at substantial reductions as early as 7 p. m., and persons wishing to take advantage of the lower rates of the 24 hours may make their calls any time after 8:30 p. m. Thus, although the midnight discount is discontinued, the longer reduced rate period and the substantial reductions applying in basic rates to distant points mean that this change will make little difference in the cost of night calls.

By this move the company expects to improve service by eliminating complications at midnight which have resulted in delays and put a heavy burden on its facilities and employees. At the more important centers it has meant retaining a large force of young women operators to care for a sudden and short-lived burst of traffic. During much of the time the operators kept on duty in anticipation of this temporary rush have had little to do, then a short period in which they have been entirely too busy to give the best service, and following that a sharp tapering on in business at an early morning hour when few of the girls could return to their homes.

With this condition growing more pronounced, the company has been facing a difficult and serious responsibility. It has become necessary to maintain dormitories in the larger central office in which many operators required only for a short period, have been housed for the rest of the night. These tours of duty have, of course, been undesirable and hard to fill. The spreading of the long distance traffic over the lengthened reduced rate period will receive this situation.

Reversal Privilege Extended

Another change that will be welcomed is the extension of the privilege of reserving charges to include station-to-station calls—whether placed during the day, evening or night—where the rate is 25 cents or more. In the last few years the use of long distance service has been increasing constantly and many situations now arise where the reversal of charges is of advantage to the customer who calls for a certain number. Hence this privilege is added convenience and saving to the public.

The highest price this year at Chicago for a mixed consignment of steers and heifers was received last week Sept. 2 on 57 Hereford baby heifers by William Seltzer, an Illinois farmer living near Manhattan in Will county. A price of 11 cents a pound was paid for these yearling cattle by Wilson & Company, Chicago packers, in their sale for Seltzer by the Farmers Union Live Stock Commission, the livestock selling department at Chicago of the Illinois Farmers Union.

These cattle came to Mr. Seltzer's farm as calves from Colorado last November. They were started on
